Dear Readers—

You've done it! You've made A Gentleman's Honor my most successful release to date! I cannot thank you all enough for your support. If you have time to leave a review, I'd appreciate it—and if you already have, thank you very much!

If you missed it—Henry Fitzwilliam, the Viscount Milton from A Gentleman's Honor, has his own short story, "A Gentleman's Justice." In it, we learn a bit more about him and his happy ending—and you'll never guess who it's with!

The story is free when you sign up for my newsletter! In case you haven't picked it up yet, you can download your copy here. I'll also be sharing sneak peeks of my latest projects, occasional excerpts of work in progress, and giveaways when I have a new release!

Again, thank you all for your support—I could not do it without you!
